Introduction and background to the exemplar policy (updated May 2015):

This policy will enable schools to link the positive effects that diet and physical activity can bring to childrens' physical, mental and emotional well being.

A poor diet and lack of physical activity are major contributing factors to increasing levels of childhood obesity and associated health problems. In response to these concerns, the Welsh Government has produced The Healthy Eating in Schools (Nutritional Standards and Requirements) (Wales) 2013 Regulations (which legislates previous Appetite for Life guidance). This sets out to improve the nutritional standards of food and drink provided in all Local Authority maintained primary, secondary and specials schools and pupil referral units in Wales.

'Creating an active Wales', the Welsh Government Strategy for Sport and Active Recreation, outlines ways to increase physical activity levels. A recent report from the Chief Medical Officers 'Start Active, Stay Active' states that all children and young people should engage in moderate to vigorous intensity physical activity for at least 60 minutes and up to several hours every day.

Estyn

Estyn inspectors will look for evidence that schools have an effective approach to the promotion of food and fitness. Inspectors will consider 'whether the school has appropriate arrangements that encourage and enable learners to be healthy' and 'take a broad view of healthy living that encompasses physical activity and fitness as well as eating and drinking'. Since the introduction of the 2013 regulations Estyn will also:

- check that the governors include their arrangements for promoting healthy eating and drinking (and how they meet the duties in Sections 1,4,6 and 7) in their annual report to parents;
- ask pupils about whether the school encourages them to eat healthily and
- note any obvious breaches of regulation

Healthy Schools context

'Food and Fitness' is one of the 7 health topics within the Welsh Network of Healthy School Schemes and schools are supported by their local team to develop a whole school approach to food and fitness. By involving members of the school community in developing and reviewing this policy it can show the school's commitment to promoting healthy eating and physical activity and providing consistent messages throughout the whole school.

Food and Fitness Policy development

Important points to remember when introducing a new Food and Fitness policy in your school:

- The exemplar policy template must be amended to reflect actual school practice. Aspects in bold are a legislated requirement. The whole document should be reviewed and amended to relate to your school; aspects in red show particular areas that need to be completed or amended.
- The whole school community should be consulted about the policy, including pupils, staff, parents and other relevant people.

- The policy must be agreed by the Governing Body.
- It should be consistent with other school policies and should be Equality Impact Assessed in line with all school policies.
- There should be a named person responsible for the policy and ensuring it is regularly reviewed.
- It should be designed to be inclusive and to offer appropriate opportunities for all children.
- The format and presentation of the policy should make it accessible to all users. Where possible, develop a young person's version with pupil input.

At Hywel Dda Primary we are committed to encouraging our pupils to lead active and healthy lifestyles. We believe that healthy children will be able to take full advantage of the educational opportunities that the school provides. The partnership of home and school is critical in shaping children and young people, and their future health.

We encourage a whole school approach to food and fitness. The head teacher, staff and governing body will ensure that food provided in the school and advice given to pupils promotes a healthy and active lifestyle.

Physical literacy is the development of fundamental skills such as running, jumping, throwing and catching from an early age. We are committed to providing high quality inclusive PE lessons and health related exercise and work in partnership with Healthy Schools and other Community Sports organisations. A combination of all of these different aspects will ensure physical literacy levels of pupils will increase.

Allergen legislation

The European Union (EU) Food Information for Consumers (FIC) Regulations 1169/2011 requires any food business offering food to children or adults to provide allergen information in a clear and consistent way. Manufacturers of pre-packaged products provide this information on packaging. The Education Catering Service provides this information on Allergen Matrices, available from the Education Catering website. The school requires parents/carers to provide information about their child/children's allergies (if relevant). If required, the school will provide allergen information about any foods/drinks given to pupils.

Aim: To ensure that consistent messages are communicated about food and fitness by people, practices and places in the school.
